This exhibition of recent works on paper by Matt Kleberg continues to borrow from architecture and ornamental references. His time in New York, pre-pandemic, inspired a constant search for architectural details and the framing of shapes. Since his move to San Antonio 2019 other ornamental forms such as tramp art have expanded his vocabulary.

The half a dozen singular works in this show provide examples of his diverse imagery. While a solid grouping of 12 works once again make use of his signature arch shape. All works are oil stick on paper except for three preparatory studies in ink from 2019-2020.
